The growth data from fall to spring is estimated at the best we can since the NWEA testing window is not yet closed.

We only tested students that were face to face for the assessment in January since data disaggregated from the virtual population in the Fall 2020 was so distant from what actual projections would have been. The data from the virtual test was suspect at best and we attribute that to lack of control of the testing environment.
