

TEAMWORK

VIA Survey calls this strength Teamwork

Parent virtue: Justice. Strengths of justice refer to the optimal relationship between the individual and the group or community, rather than the more one-to-one relationships in the humanity virtue. These strengths include: teamwork/citizenship, fairness, and leadership.

WHAT DOES TEAMWORK MEAN?

You work well as a member of a group or team. You are loyal, reliable, and dedicated to helping your team achieve its goals.

Teamwork is the ability and willingness to place overall group success as a higher priority than individual achievement. Citizenship is a willingness to work towards the community's success, which includes but stretches beyond one's own self-interest. Those who demonstrate this character strength help their teammates by cooperating toward shared goals. These individuals have a sense of duty and responsibility to the group's short and long-term success. And, these individuals are willing to commit their time and resources to achieve group goals.

This strength is associated with naturally positive feelings that accompany being a member of a family, team, school, political party, ethnic group, or country. However, those positive feelings can come with bad behavior towards the "out-group" in the form of blind obedience, disparaging words, or prejudice. This is important to guard against by leveraging a person's other positive character strengths.

WHY DOES IT MATTER?

For individuals, teamwork often means deferring or delaying individual accomplishments in order to ensure that the group maintains a high level of success. Their commitment to the larger group effort makes them both good teammates and citizens. The positive feelings associated with being part of a larger whole – can be highly beneficial and combat selfishness and egotism.

Our ability to work effectively within group structures is tied directly to the group's ability to succeed. In schools and workplaces across the world, commitment to teamwork and to the group's success helps to further learning and achievement for all group members. Maintaining the idea that "Other People Matter" is essential to any successful team environment.

Individuals with this strength might be described as:

- Loyal
